1. Get an Oyster card

An Oyster card is a contactless payment card that you can use to travel on the London Underground, buses, and trains. It's the most convenient way to get around the city, and it's much cheaper than buying individual tickets. You can buy an Oyster card at any Underground station or train station.

2. Visit the Tower of London

The Tower of London is one of the most iconic landmarks in London. It's a historic castle that has been used as a royal palace, a prison, and a place of execution. Today, the Tower of London is home to the Crown Jewels and the ravens that are said to protect the kingdom.

3. Take a walk through Hyde Park

Hyde Park is one of the largest and most beautiful parks in London. It's a great place to relax, take a stroll, or have a picnic. You can also visit the Serpentine Gallery, which is home to contemporary art exhibitions.

4. See a show in the West End

The West End is London's theater district. It's home to some of the best theaters in the world, and you can see a wide variety of shows, from musicals to plays to comedies. Be sure to book your tickets in advance, as they can sell out quickly.

5. Visit the British Museum

The British Museum is one of the world's largest and most comprehensive museums. It's home to a vast collection of artifacts from around the world, including the Rosetta Stone, the Elgin Marbles, and the mummies of ancient Egypt. The museum is free to enter, and it's a great place to spend a few hours exploring.

6. Take a day trip to Oxford or Cambridge

Oxford and Cambridge are two of the most prestigious universities in the world. They're both located within easy reach of London, and they're great places to visit for a day trip. You can tour the colleges, visit the museums, and soak up the atmosphere of these historic towns.

7. Eat at a traditional British pub

No trip to London would be complete without visiting a traditional British pub. Pubs are a great place to relax, have a drink, and enjoy some traditional British food. Be sure to try fish and chips, bangers and mash, or a Sunday roast.

8. Shop on Oxford Street

Oxford Street is one of the busiest shopping streets in the world. It's home to a wide variety of shops, from department stores to designer boutiques. You can find everything you need on Oxford Street, from clothes to electronics to souvenirs.

9. See the London Eye

The London Eye is a giant Ferris wheel that offers stunning views of the city. It's a great way to see all of London's landmarks in one go. You can buy tickets in advance or on the day of your visit.

10. Take a boat trip down the River Thames

The River Thames is one of the most iconic waterways in the world. You can take a boat trip down the river to see some of London's most famous landmarks, including the Houses of Parliament, the Tower of London, and the London Eye. You can also take a boat trip to Greenwich, which is home to the Royal Observatory.
