

Guiding Principles of The Salvation Army Social Services Ministries

The Salvation Army is an international Christian organization that provides social services to people in need. The organization's social services ministries are based on the Christian faith and its commitment to serving the poor and marginalized. The guiding principles of The Salvation Army's social services ministries are:

Faith In Action: Guiding Principles of The Salvation Army Social Services Ministries by Richard Esposito

★★★★☆ 4.4 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 2698 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 258 pages

1. Compassion

The Salvation Army believes that all people are created in the image of God and deserve to be treated with compassion and dignity. The organization's social services ministries are designed to provide practical help and support to people in need, regardless of their race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, or economic status.

2. Service

The Salvation Army is committed to serving the poor and marginalized. The organization's social services ministries provide a wide range of services, including food, shelter, clothing, financial assistance, and counseling. The Salvation Army also works to address the root causes of poverty and marginalization through its community development programs.

3. Justice

The Salvation Army believes that all people deserve to be treated fairly and justly. The organization's social services ministries work to promote justice and equality for all people. The Salvation Army also advocates for policies that will help to end poverty and marginalization.

4. Stewardship

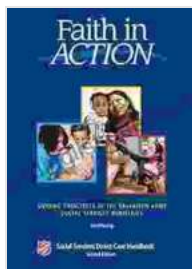

The Salvation Army believes that it is responsible for using its resources wisely. The organization's social services ministries are designed to be efficient and effective. The Salvation Army also works to ensure that its programs are accountable to the people it serves.

5. Excellence

The Salvation Army is committed to providing excellent service to the people it serves. The organization's social services ministries are staffed by trained and compassionate professionals. The Salvation Army also uses evidence-based practices to ensure that its programs are effective.

The guiding principles of The Salvation Army's social services ministries are based on the organization's Christian faith and its commitment to serving the poor and marginalized. These principles guide the organization's work in providing practical help and support to people in need, addressing the root causes of poverty and marginalization, and promoting justice and equality for all people.

Faith In Action: Guiding Principles of The Salvation Army Social Services Ministries by Richard Esposito

★★★★☆ 4.4 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 2698 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 258 pages

Unveiling Hidden Crete: A Comprehensive Review of Richard Clark's Notebook

In the tapestry of travel literature, Richard Clark's 'Hidden Crete Notebook' stands as a vibrant thread, inviting readers to unravel the enigmatic beauty of the Greek...

New Addition Subtraction Games Flashcards For Ages Year

Looking for a fun and educational way to help your child learn addition and subtraction? Check out our new addition subtraction games flashcards...